

McLaren MP4-12C MTM Tuning Kit Coming

23/12/2011 11:27 by admin

The McLaren MP4-12C is an extremely rare sight in our tuning news section so we are more than happy to see that the British supercar is now on its way of receiving a new aftermarket package from Germany.

MTM has recently started working on a McLaren MP4-12C tuning project, with the company planning to introduce a set of tech mods for the vehicle, as GT Spirit writes. The aftermarket developer wants the project to be ready in the first quarter of next year.

We'll remind you that the starting... [...]
