London is well-known for its extravagant custom exotic vehicles, so you can imagine that it's very difficult to be able to stand out when you're surrounded by tons and tons of tuned go-fast rides. Thus, certain owners use extreme approaches in order to capture attention, with the latest example of this being the car in the adjacent video.

We are talking about a Mercedes SLS AMG with an owner who decided to wrap it in a matte finish. However, when he had to chose the color, the owner went for ... [...]
