Prior Design has recently introduced an exterior package for the BMW 1-Series Coupe that brings owners the appearance of the 1M Coupe. The German tuning house is now back with a similar development, offering a set of Mercedes E63 AMG clothes for the regular E-Class.

We are talking about the PD500 body kit, a package that is suitable for all W212 E-class sedans, closely following the lines created by AMG for the uber E-Class. The kit includes a new front fascia, redesigned side skirts, as well... [...]
