Qatar is well known for its passion of wrapping supercars in all kind of crazy colors and we're here to give you a new example of this. For now, we have a Mercedes SLS AMG, a supercar that can be described as capable, but not extremely fun.

Thus, its owner decided to take things to a new level, at least from the visual point of view. Thus the vehicle received a purple wrap with certain chrome accents. The vehicle was caught on camera by Youtube user exoticspotterKSA, who chose multiple angles... [...]
