

Toyota GT86 by TRD

13/01/2012 21:18 by admin

Our heads are spinning with the overload of tuned up Toyota GT 86's that are being revealed at the 2012 Tokyo Auto Salon. Whatever form the GT 86 - or BRZ and FR-S - comes in, one thing we do know is that it exudes some serious hot metal. That's why a lot of people have been looking forward to the first tuning programs of these cars, with one in particular being the TRD-tuned, Satin White Pearl-finished Toyota GT86. As it turns out, the GT 86 TRD comes with plenty of new aerodynamic accessories courtesy of TRD. There's a new front lip, new side skirts on both sides of the car, new front and rear anti-roll bars, a carbon fiber strut, a rear diffuser, additional road-bracing, a high-response exhaust system, interior sports seats, and a new set of 18" alloy wheels.[...]

Source: topspeed