

Land Rover Defender Kahn Wheels Presented

19/01/2012 17:42 by admin

The world was taken by surprise when British tuner Kahn released a tuning development based on the Land Rover DC100 last year, in the form of the Kahn Defender. However, the base vehicle is just a prototype that's years away from being released, so the tuned example must follow suit.

However, Kahn is now launching a set of wheels developed exclusively for the current Defender, with the 16-inch rims being perfectly suitable for the toughest off-road adventure. Kahn is also planning to release ... [...]

Source: autoevolution