

Lamborghini Gallardo Rides on ADV.1 Wheels

20/01/2012 15:51 by admin

The Lamborghini Gallardo has been on the marker for quite some years and during all this time, the supercar has received its fair share of tuning developments. We are now here to talk about such a development, one that takes the Gallardo's game to a whole new level.

The project is being handled by tuning company Velos Designwerks and is now in the work in progress stage. The vehicle has been fitted with a set of one-piece ADV.1 5.2SL wheels, with customers being able to opt for sizes ranging ... [...]
