The Dubai Mall is one of the best sight-seeing places in the world. To put it another way, this is a top location for performing automotive birdwatching: spotting exotic rides in their (more or less) natural environment. We are now here to give you a new example of this, this time also adding a little bit of tuning flavor.

The clip, which was posted by Youtube user JustinsSupercars, brings us a white example of the Mercedes C63 AMG, whose driver decided to make it more special, but didn't wan... [...]
