

BMW X6 M Wrapped in Metallic Matte Grey [Video]

24/01/2012 19:01 by admin

The art of car wrapping is getting increasingly sophisticated, with customers being able to specify crazy combinations or subtle finishes with a hint of exclusivity.

One of the US companies in this new and growing industry is Diamond Black Exteriors also known as DBX, as they seem to have gotten the satin and metallic finishes down.

This time, they've wrapped something really big and impressive, the monster of all crossover coupes! Yes, the BMW X6 M is sporting a new look. And while we're n... [...]

Source: autoevolution