

Kahn Porsche Panamera Wide Track

26/01/2012 21:39 by admin

The tuning world has started the new year with the development pedal to the metal and one of the most active companies is Kahn, which has now given us a new goodie, in the form of a Porsche Panamera tuning package.

Meet the Kahn Panamera Wide Track, a German four-door coupe that has been fitted with British goodies: beefier front and rear wheel arches, a refreshed rear fascia, a rear wing, as well as dark window tint.

This story also has a tech side, which includes a lowered suspension, a ... [...]
