

Porsche Cayenne Air Suspension Lowering Module from Vogtland

27/01/2012 16:47 by admin

If you ask European tuners about their favorite playground, the Porsche name will probably be the answer and one of the most spoiled children of the aftermarket world is the Cayenne.

The German SUV has just received a new tuning development, in the form of a lowering module for the air suspension-fitted models, which comes from German company Vogtland Autosport. The module allows the driver to play with the vehicle's ride height, being able to bring the car closer to the road by up to 40 mm, ... [...]

Source: autoevolution