

BMW Z8 Roadster Tuned by Senner

30/01/2012 13:18 by admin

BMW built the Z8 as the flagship of its roadster range between 2000 and 2003, and even though James Bond had one in the Pierce Brosnan era, the car never really caught on. Nowadays, you can still grab one for between €90,000 and say €190,000 if it's a real minter in the Alpina configuration.

Now Senner Tuning has upgraded one example, giving the 400 hp lump under the bonnet another 50 hp, thanks to a tuned exhaust, sports air filter. They've also targeted the appearance of this rar... [...]

Source: autoevolution