US aftermarket developer Vossen Wheels recently released a photo shoot that aims to make people say So fresh, so clean!, with the images showcasing a Camaro riding on limited edition CV1 rims.

While the pony car is dressed in white, the wheels are finished in matte graphite, creating a strong contrast that draws attention to the car, with the rims also featuring a gloss graphite lip, a detail that stands out even more.

Here's what Vossen Wheels had to say about the development on the Luxur... [...]
