We have yet another Black Bison Edition has been released by one of our favorite Japanese tuning companies, this time targeting the most awesome four-door coupe, the CLS 63 AMG.

Let's start with the body of the car, which sports a new carbon-fiber front bumper and a new diffuser round the back. There's also a huge trunk lid spoiler that's also made from the light-weight material. The kit also brings fresh air vents and a set of integrated LED daytime runners

Moving on to the performance si... [...]
