A preview of a tuning package from the Aston Martin Cygnet recently came from the UK and now it is time to give you the full development, which comes from Kahn. The British tuner has fitted the city car a stainless steel quad exhaust system, which uses cross hair tips, as well as with a set of RS Kahn wheels, which come in a 17-inch size for the front axle and 18-inch for the the rear. These can be ordered in any color and keep the stock center caps.

Inside the car, Kahn allows customers to ... [...]
