ABT Sportsline is the biggest provider of aftermarket parts for VW Group vehicles, and while some might say they are being repetitive, they are also consistent and thorough about tuning everything to come out of a VW or Audi factory.

Now, they've teased the new projects that will debut at the Geneva Motor Show next month. The tuner plan on unveiling four new upgraded cars there from both VW and Audi, namely the Beetle, UP, Q3 and A6.

The Beetle is going to get a set of 20-inch ABT wheels a... [...]
