

2013 BMW M6 on ADV.1 Wheels [Rendering]

13/02/2012 12:51 by admin

BMW has recently launched the eagerly-anticipated M6 and the car now has a lot to do. One of the most important things on its list is to serve as a basis for the greedy tuners and their customers, who will always want something different.

Thus, we are bringing you the first aftermarket development for the F12 BMW M6 - a virtual one, of course. We are dealing with an example of the M6 that has been virtually fitted with a set of ADV.1 wheels, which come in a black finish.

The rendering, whi... [...]
