

Hofele Design Ready for Geneva 2012

15/02/2012 13:37 by admin

As the Geneva Motor Show is approaching fast, more and more companies are announcing their presence to the swiss event and we are here now to see what German tuner Hofele Design has prepared for us.

The aftermarket developer will bring three main goodies to the show, with the displayed products targeting various parts of the audience. We are talking about the Cayster GT 670 tuning kit for the second generation of the Porsche Cayenne, the SR8 development, based on the Audi A8 D4. You can see b... [...]
