

Irmscher Insignia ST Cross4 Concept Coming to Geneva

15/02/2012 21:39 by admin

German tuner Irmischer is set to bring one of its most ambitious projects to the Geneva Motor Show this year, with the aftermarket developer planning to give us a crossover version of the Opel Insignia Sports Tourer (ST).

Called the Insignia ST Cross4, this is a design study that aims to compete with vehicles such as the VW Passat Alltrack. The vehicle, which is based on the 4x4 version of the car, gets a soft-road body kit that includes front and rear protection elements for the bumpers, beef... [...]

Source: autoevolution