

Ferrari 458 Carbon Fiber Cup Holder

16/02/2012 14:50 by admin

The Ferrari 458 is a car that can keep feelings and emotions constantly flowing through your brain. The car can do this in many ways, relying on sheer power, violent sound and many others. Of course, your body will respond to that and you might need a refreshment and this is where this piece of news comes into play.

US aftermarket developer has recently released a new product, a carbon fiber cupholder for the Ferrari 458. This is made of molded carbon fiber, with the company making sure that it co... [...]
