

Onyx Concept Range Rover Evoque Rouge Edition

22/02/2012 20:40 by admin

The Range Rover Evoque has just received a new tuning package, with the development coming from Onyx Cars and targeting all the areas of the crossover. The Irish tuner starts with a wide body kit, which includes a front fascia, bonnet, carbon fiber front grille, rear fascia, beefier wheel arches, more muscular side elements, as well as side air vents.

As for the interior, this received a carbon fiber trimming that covers sixteen elements, while multiple parts of the cabin now come with a cust... [...]
