

ABT Tuned VW Up! Is Retro Chic

23/02/2012 13:17 by admin

German tuner ABT has dropped a couple of photos of the dressed up Volkswagen Up! they will be releasing via the Geneva Motor Show. Usually, their conversions have a DIY bolt-on look that lets most of the car untouched, but this is like going all the way. There isn't a single panel that has been left untouched.

Hans Jurgen ABT himself says the new Up! is fun to drive around town and especially on narrow streets. It even reminded of the little Abarths his father used to drive.

The Up! has be... [...]

Source: autoevolution