

Chevy Camaro "Sheriff" Police Car from China

27/02/2012 12:48 by admin

China might seem like a total backwater where people drive around in awful cars (some of that is true) but they have a whole lot of educated folks down there, and famously more English speakers than America itself.

So it does not surprise us that somebody in China created a police car out of the Chevrolet Camaro, the epitome of American muscle. And no, we don't think it's a real police car, since the last time we checked they didn't have Sheriffs that Protect and Serve there.
