

DMC Design Lamborghini Aventador Molto Veloce

28/02/2012 12:58 by admin

The Lamborghini Aventador keeps getting more and more aftermarket development, with the latest development of this kind coming from DMC Design, which is previewing a styling package for the supercar.

The development uses the Molto Veloce (this can be translated as very fast) and uses carbon fiber elements that come with an aggressive design, building on the vehicle's already bold design.

The front fascia has been restyled, while the side skirts now come with multiple air intakes, while at ... [...]
