

RUF to Present Six New Cars in Geneva

01/03/2012 17:16 by admin

Ruf is one of the top Porsche tuners in the world and the company wants to display an explosion of models at the upcoming Geneva Motor Show, where it will offer us no less than six new developments.

The company hasn't mentioned the exact details for the upcoming models, only offering us a few hints. The vehicles will be based on the 911 and maybe on the new Boxster, which will make its debut at the Swiss event (this is just a guess), with Ruf letting us now that it will present the following ... [...]

Source: autoevolution