Ruf is just one of the many tuners that are showing up in Geneva with models ready to light up the stage. In fact, Ruf is showing up with about six vehicles, providing just an initial of their names: "the new stunning "CT...", the new rocket "Rt...", the new racer "RG...", the new luxury "RX...", the grandfather of RUF Turbo cars, and last but not least one more surprise! We haven’t figured out the surprise just yet, but we did happen to come across the first image of their Cayman-based CTR3 Clubsport - the first from the long list of debuts in Geneva. The CTR3 Clubsport will be an evolution of the current CTR3 supercar and, judging from the first picture, it will look amazing. The standard CTR3 is powered by a 3.8-liter twin-turbocharged flat-six cylinder engine that produces an output of 750 HP at 7,100 rpm and 708 lb/ft of torque at 4,000 rpm. It sprints from 0 to 60 mph in just 3.2 seconds and can hit a top speed of 236 mph.[...]
