

Mercedes CLS Black Bison Wrapped in Brushed Metallic Blue: Photos and Video

02/03/2012 13:26 by admin

Diamond Black Xteriors, also known as DBX, have come up with yet another awesome project. They started out with an already awesome base car, a Mercedes Benz CLS witted with a body kit by Japanese tuners Wald International.

Thanks to the kit, the CLS Black Bison is already enhanced with more muscular features and plenty of carbon fiber trim, on the grille, the air intakes and the new diffuser round the back. There's also a huge trunk lid spoiler that's also made from the light-weight material. ... [...]

Source: autoevolution