

Je Design Customizes Porsche Panamera

02/03/2012 18:27 by admin

If you've bought a Porsche Panamera and just now realized it's as ugly as the humpback whale that it is, we found a new tuning kit that will make it look like a whale that listens to hip-hop and is into chrome. Really, turning a large executive car into one of these low-rider cruisers is a bit blasphemous.

JE Design has come up with a new front bumper that houses huge air intakes. LED light were integrated as well, while round the back quad exhausts are fitted into a new diffused-tail bumper.... [...]
