

Brabus Bullit Coupe 800: Stealth V12 Biturbo C-Coupe

05/03/2012 13:49 by admin

Brabus today has announced they've built the world's fastest and most expensive C-Class in the form of the Bullit, a blacked-out killer with a heart transplant like no other. The body is based on the C 63 AMG, but instead of the 6.3-liter aspirated V8 engine, this has an 800 horsepower incarnation of a V12 Biturbo. And if 800 hp does not impress you, it also has 1,420 Nm (1,047 lb-ft)1,420 Nm (1,047 lb-ft) of torque to help propel it to over 370 km/h (230 mph).

The engine is borrowed from an... [...]

Source: autoevolution