

New Brabus Ultimate 120 Takes the Smart Fortwo Cabrio to the Next Level, but at a Hefty Price?

05/03/2012 15:50 by admin

When it comes to Brabus, it's all about power and speed regardless of the size of the vehicle and both are true for the German tuning firm's latest creation named the Ultimate 120, which is based on the Smart Fortwo Cabrio and will make its world premiere at this week's 2012 Geneva Motor Show. The name refers to both the output (120PS or 118bhp) and the number of cars Brabus plans to produce but not to its price that is set at a mind boggling ?45,900 or about US$61,600 a piece![...]
