

Range Rover Evoque Falls Into the Hands of Hamann Motorsport

06/03/2012 01:51 by admin

The fourth model that Hamann Motorsport will display on its stand at the 82nd Geneva Motor Show won't sport the extraordinary performance figures of the Hawk, the M5 or the Guardian Evo, but it's quite special nonetheless. The Laupheim, Germany-based tuning firm has laid its hands on the Range Rover Evoque with the intention of making the admittedly already stylish compact crossover model even more eye-catching.[...]

Source: Carscoop