This year's Geneva Motor Show has been jammed packed not only with cars but also visitors. With hundreds of cars on displays as far as you can see, we couldn't cover it all. So for a bit of tuning action, we turned to supercar spotter Alex Molik, who has filmed this this FAB Design SLS Roadster Jetstream today.

This conversion is based on the body kit for the SLS coupe called the Gullstream, but in places it has become unique. The show car impresses us with its red paintjob that almost looks l... [...]
