The Ferrari 458 Italia is some sort of an expression of perfection, but this doesn't mean that tuners can't do anything for the supercar. The latest modified 458 comes from the US - we are talking about a one-off, which has received a discrete treatment.

The supercar now rides on a set of ADV.1 wheels (ADV5.0 Trak Spec), which comes in a 20x9-inch size for the front axle and a 21x12.5-inch size for the rear one, use a gloss black inner side and a lip, as well as a matte black center, being wr... [...]
