The Mercedes CLS63 AMG is a car that combines many worlds. It offers the interior space of a sedan, the power of a supercar and the shape of a coupe. Thus, the vehicle can serve as a perfect basis for a tuning project.

The latest aftermarket development for the CLS comes from ADV.1 Wheels, which fitted the car with a nice set of new shoes. We are talking about ADV5.21 SL rims, which uses a one-piece construction and a five double-spoke design that seem to match the curved lines of the CLS.
