

Ferrari F430 on Modulare Wheels: Photo Shoot

14/03/2012 17:24 by admin

Just imagine how life would be like if you lived in the mansion shown in the adjacent images and you'd wake up in the morning looking at your customized Ferrari F430 that's waiting for you in the pavement. This is what US aftermarket specialist Modulare Wheels is proposing, with the company releasing a special photo shoot to promote its goodies.

The F430 in the images rides on Modulare B14 forged monoblock wheels that come in a 20-inch size (20x8.5 for the front axle and 20x12 for the rear o... [...]
