

Porsche 911 Matte Army Green Wrap

14/03/2012 17:24 by admin

The Porsche 911 is a car that has something special - take an example from any generation out on the street and you'll still get attention, despite the vehicle's age. This is also true for the aftermarket scene, which likes to play with 911 of all ages.

The latest tuning development based on an older 911 comes from US company Vynil Styles and targets the 996 generation of the car (this is the 911 from two generations ago).

The rear-engined coupe has revived a matte wrap, but the special th... [...]

Source: autoevolution