Ladies and Gentlemen, you are looking at what British tuner Severnvalley Motorsport claims is the fastest Nissan GT-R in the world. Of course, such an asset is relative, so we have to explain that by fastest, the company understands that this is the GT-R with the most impressive top speed.

The GT-R's factory stock nickname is "Godzilla", but this car has been so heavily modified that it's even got a new name Hulk. The vehicle has recently been put through its paces on a track and ma... [...]
