Despite the fact that the 370Z is more powerful and better looking in our opinion, people still love the older 350Z. We suppose this has something to do with the styling which is more free and simple, like it was designed in California, which it actually was.

The looks are kind of hard to change, so about the only thing you can do is tune the engine and suspension. Thankfully Senner took a brake from making fast Audis and gave the Nissan a new lease on life.

Thanks to a supercharger kit, ... [...]
