The Scion iQ should be a perfect example of a car aimed at a young audience and one that comes with a custom-like look, but there will always be certain people who want to take things further. We are referring to tuners and we are here to give you an example offered by SR Auto Group, which has recently played with an iQ, gifting it with multiple exterior and interior mods.

The city car has been fitted with a body coming from Premier 4509, with this including front bumper, rear bumper, side sk... [...]
