Before anybody gets their mighty morphins on, we'd like to qualify that this tuned up Range Rover isn't an ode to the once fearless leader of the Power Rangers. No, it doesn't have anything to do with the 90's kiddie show. What it actually is is the latest program from the always busy tuning company, Kahn Design. Always one to put forth the best product for its loyal customers, Kahn Design has come out with a new program for the Range Rover that they have christened the "Red Ranger." As you can expect from the use of the name, this Range Rover comes dressed with a deep red finish that offers a nice contrast to the black accents fitted into the car. Kahn Design also added an extensive aerodynamic body kit that comprises of a new carbon fiber front grille, side air vents, new front and rear bumper trims, extended front and rear lip spoilers, front LED strips, side skirts, wheel arch extensions, quad exhaust tailpipes, and last but certainly not least, a new set of 22" Kahn RS600 wheels.[...]
