

Ferrari 599 Tuned by Vorsteiner [Photo Gallery]

19/04/2012 12:55 by admin

The Ferrari 599 might have been replaced by the F12 Berlinetta, but aftermarket developers aren't quite ready to give it up. The latest example of a tuning development destined for the 599 comes from the US, where Vorsteiner has announced an aerodynamic package for the car. Using the 599-VX Coupe designation, the body kit is made from carbon fiber and is 70 percent lighter than the stock parts it replaces. This consists of a few... [...]

Source: autoevolution