Aiming at those looking to race in the lower formulas of rally, Peugeot has introduced the first competition version of its new 208 supermini. The new 208 R2 was developed for the popular R2 rally category and features a raft of upgrades over the regular model. These include the driveline that combines a 1.6-liter naturally aspirated four-cylinder engine tuned to deliver 185hp at 7,800rpm, linked to a five-speed, manual, sequential gearbox with the lever mounted on the steering column.[...]
