Ever wondered how a MINI would look like if it fell into the hands of a Japanese tuning house? Well, one answer comes into the form of the adjacent images, which show a a MINI Coupe JCW (John Cooper Works) that has been touched by Duell AG. The starting point was the fresh R58 MINI Coupe JCW, which received a bold new front fascia with LED daytime running lights and a massive splitter, color-coded wheel arches, new side skirts, as well as...
