

Audi Q7 Rides on JE Design Scorpio Wheels

16/05/2012 17:12 by admin

The Audi Q7 has just received a new aftermarket gift, with this coming from JE Design, which has released a new wheel design for the SUV. We are talking about the Scorpio two-tone wheels, which use a complex design with five double spokes. The tuning company brags that the design, which has been optimized in CAD, serves both form and function, as it also allows air to cool the brakes in a controlled way. The wheels have been presented on t... [...]

Source: autoevolution