

A Video Tour of the 2012 Moscow Tuning Show

18/05/2012 22:35 by admin

Some may find it hard to believe but not all Russians post videos of people flashing guns as turning signals, Audi R8s drift-crashing and Land Rovers flipping over sewage covers (just to mention a few of the most recent clips). At the end of April, the Russian capital of Moscow served as the host to one of the largest tuning shows in the country with plenty of people making use of their cameras to film the modified cars and as is universally the case with these kind of events, professional models dressed, sometimes even...undressed, to draw attention upon the cars.[...]

Source: Carscoop