D2Forged has been teasing custom wheels fans for a few days about a new release and now it's finally here, with the tuner fitting an Audi S5 Coupe with a new set of shoes. A pre-facelift example of the German coupe has received a set of Deep Concave wheels, which use a simple five-spoke design and come in a 21-inch size that dramatically alters the look of the vehicle. The car has received an all-black... [...]
