

Porsche Panamera Turbo: NightHawk Lip Kit from German Special Customs

22/05/2012 17:46 by admin

German Special Customs is a tuner that usually likes to gift premium vehicles with over the top body kits, but in the case of the Porsche Panamera Turbo, the aftermarket developer made an exception, by introducing a lip pack for the car. Thus, the four-door coupe was gifted with front and rear lips made from carbon fiber, a set of side skirts that use a complex design, as well as with a rear spoiler, which is also pretty discrete and made...
