While BMW is still testing the new coupe incarnation of the 3-Series, tuners are busy working on the E92, with the vehicle looking as fresh as ever. The latest aftermarket developer to come with such a project is Alpha-N Performance, which has released the BT92. The 3-Series Coupe was gifted with a carbon fiber body kit that includes new front and rear fascias, a vented hood, a beefier trunk lid, as well as a generously-sized, adjustable ... [...]
