

25/06/2012 19:59 by admin

The Porsche 911 Turbo is awaiting to get a new generation, but the German engineers are still working to complete the development of the supercar, so the 997 outgoing model is still the one that receives attention when tuners want to showcase an ultra-fast 911 these days. We're here to bring you the freshest example of that, in the form of a photo shoot that shows us an example of the 911 Turbo that has received a bit of afterma... [...]

Source: autoevolution