The Aston Martin Vantage must be feeling lonely these days now that everybody is turning their attention to new Vanquish, so we felt we gave the V8 a little helping click. We surfed the web in search of a special example and came across the one in the adjacent images, which rides on stunning custom wheels coming from D2Forged. The Vantage uses CV2 X-Lip rims, with these coming in a size of 20x9.5-inch for the front axle and 20x11-inch for... [...]
